

Dmytro Tsaryk

Tsatiory

Kyiv, Ukraine
instagram.com/tsatiory

ARTIST STATEMENT

A garden, for me, is not a place. It is a state — the experience of beauty, safety, and peace that exists within a person regardless of what is happening outside. I think of painting as a way to reconstruct that state: not to depict it, but to literally build it on the surface of paper or canvas.

I work with dry pigments, acrylics, and oil on archival paper and unprimed canvas. I look for a balance between preparation and chance: the moment when the material slips out of control and flows into complex organic forms is not a mistake — it is the point. My works do not depict flowers or trees, but they emerge as gardens — through gesture, through the layering of colour, through the way a body remembers the shape of growth.

Beauty in my work is not an aesthetic category. It is a response to violence. An active position: to find and hold the experience of peace precisely when it is hardest to do so. I live and work in Ukraine. The conditions of that life are present in the work — not as subject matter, but as pressure that determines the necessity of each mark.

SOLO EXHIBITIONS

2024 Don't Resist The Wind
Kyiv, Ukraine

GROUP EXHIBITIONS

2026 Abstraction
Flowerbed Gallery, Kyiv

2025 21
Kuznia Gallery, Kyiv

2024 Khata
New York, USA

2024 Opening
Ukrainian-Danish Youth House, Mykolaiv

2024 Flowerbed Gallery
Group exhibition, Kyiv

2024 Kviten
Odesa, Ukraine

2024 Berezen
Kyiv, Ukraine

2023 Southern Reflections
Kyiv, Ukraine

- 2022 A Walk Home
Lviv, Ukraine
- 2022 Art through War
Kyiv, Ukraine
- 2022 Dialogue of Forms
Kyiv, Ukraine
-

COLLECTIONS

Works held in private collections in the United States, Ukraine, Germany, Finland, Hungary, Iceland, Denmark, Austria, and Poland.

REPRESENTATION

Khata Showroom
New York, USA

PRACTICE

Painting · dry pigments, acrylics, oil, oil stick
Surfaces · archival paper, unprimed canvas, tracing paper, collage
Scale · works up to 200 × 150 cm
Music · releases under the name Tsatory

EDUCATION

2016–22 MA, Management of Sociocultural Activities
Mykhailo Dragomanov Ukrainian State University, Kyiv

Certification in Project Management